WHAT'S EXTRA SPECIAL ABOUT THIS TOUR?

Three things you won't find on every itinerary

AT SEA

Humpback whales at incredibly close range

A whale-watching tour with respected, respectful and long-standing operators, the first in Iceland. You can even try a spot of cod fishing.

IN THE AIR

Fly home from Akureyri

A return flight from Akureyri to Reykjavík saves you a tedious return drive.

ON THE CLIFFS

Puffins at the world's largest colony

A return ferry to the Westman Islands to see Atlantic Puffins at their largest colony in the world.

WHAT'S SPECIAL ABOUT BIRDING ON ICELAND?

Birds against waterfalls, lava and steam

See the birds against a backdrop of waterfalls, lava fields, volcanic cones, geysers, steaming vents and windswept rocky headlands.

- Waders performing their amazing breeding displays
- Bustling seabird colonies, including Atlantic Puffins and Thick-billed Murres
- All European ducks and more on Lake Mývatn, the lake of the midges
- Raptors and owls: Gyrfalcons, Short-eared Owls, White-tailed Eagles, Merlins
- The "red" birds

  Red-necked Phalarope · Red-throated Diver · Redpoll · Redwing ;)

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO NEXT?

Four steps to decide

1 Take note of all the details of this tour

2 Shop around

Take a look at what other companies are offering for similar tours. Bear in mind:

- The "extras" we offer here: domestic flight, Puffin island visit, classy whale-watching excursion
- The number of days. We don't count arrival in Reykjavík as a day on the tour
- Our 30 years of experience leading bird tours
- We'll answer any doubts you may have
- It's a small group tour, not one with 15, 20 or even 25 people or more

3 Send us an email

When you decide for yourself that this is really your best option for a midsummer birding tour to Iceland, send us an email and we'll send you another file with more details.
